Gain efficiency and reduce costs with HP Pay For Print

The future of print

Organizations today generate a huge volume of print output, resulting in increased expenses and inefficiencies related to day-to-day printing.

Thus, keeping an organization supplied with toner and ink cartridges has become a time-consuming and labor-intensive process.

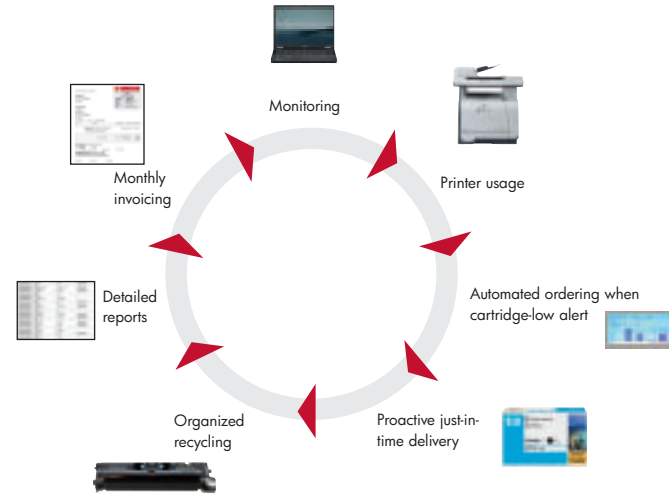

To help customers more efficiently manage their print inventory, HP has created Pay For Print – an innovative, fully automated, supplies-reordering service.

In addition to simplified supplies replenishment, the program reduces your printing costs and provides extensive monitoring features for a better overview of printer performance.

Ready. Set. Automate.

As your HP Pay For Print authorized partner, we are pleased to offer you this service.

Getting started

We will conduct a process and cost analysis so you can see what your cost saving will be. We will also help you implement the necessary software.

Ongoing

When a printer from your fleet runs low on supplies, we will automatically be notified and dispatch a new shipment. You will receive the replacement delivery within 48 hours.

Monthly

Receive a detailed invoice for what you have used or received in the preceding month. You can also look up your usage or obtain other report information at any time online.
